PERSONAL STATEMENT

As a passionate Computing graduate with keen interests in web development, I bring a dynamic blend of technical skills, problem-solving abilities, and a strong drive for continuous learning to any team or project.

Through my studies, I have actively engaged in practical group projects to apply and enhance my skills. Through hands-on experience with clients to create effective IT solutions.

Furthermore, my exploration into cybersecurity has been both enlightening and rewarding. I've gained insights into threat detection, vulnerability assessment, and risk mitigation strategies through coursework.
